WHAT THE "L"?

WATERPROOF BREATHABLE FABRICS - TECHNOLOGY & TERMINOLOGY

SOLID RATINGS

When you see features like 10K/10K noted on a piece of outerwear, we're not talking about social media followers but instead the waterproof breathable performance of the garment. The first number represents how much pressure is required to force water through the membrane, the higher the better. The second number represents how much moisture the membrane can transport away from your skin to be evaporated, the higher the better.

When you see 2L, 2.5L and 3L called out as a feature, here's what it means...

2L

2 layered construction where a waterproof breathable membrane is laminated to the backside (interior-facing) of the shell fabric.

2.5L

2.5L = 2 layered construction as above plus a printed layer on the backside (the next-to-skin, interior-facing) of the fabric for the wearer's comfort.

3L

3 layered construction where the waterproof breathable membrane layer is laminated between the shell fabric and backer fabric. The backer fabric protects the membrane from wear and tear. This creates a more durable garment with lasting waterproof properties.

WATERPROOF RATINGS

- 1K: Rain resistant however briefly. Common rating for a garment with only a DWR coating.
- 5K: Can be called rainproof, but will not perform in extended periods of time or heavy downpours
- 10-15K: Will stand up to serious extended rain and heavy sleet/snow
- 20K+: Monsoon-ready

BREATHABLE RATINGS

- 5-10K: Comfortable for mild activity
- 10-15K: Comfortable for most activity
- 15-20K: Extended physical activity

DWR = DURABLE WATER REPELLENT COATING

This polymer spray is applied to the outer layer of the garment. The polymer bonds to the fabric and causes water to bead up and roll off. Suitable for very light rain or dry snow. DWR may be applied to 2L, 2.5L and 3L garments for a higher level of water repellency.

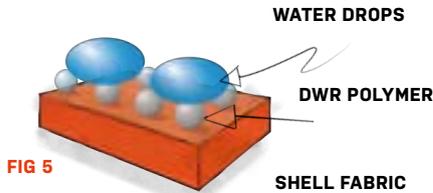

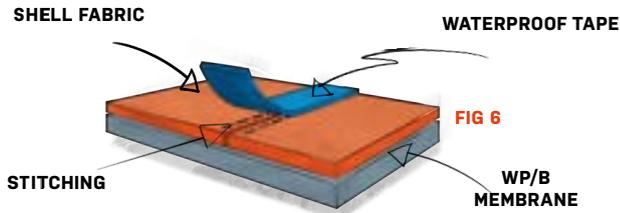

FIG 5

SEAM TAPING

In combination with the laminated fabric construction noted above, you will also see different taping methods called out. Seam taping is exactly what it sounds like, waterproof tape is applied over the construction seams to create a waterproof seal.

TYPES OF TAPING:

Critically Taped: Taping applied to seams with the highest exposure to rain like the shoulders, neckline and armhole.

Fully Taped: All seams are taped. Standard construction for garments with high waterproof ratings. Essential for garments designed for bad weather conditions.

THE GATEKEEPER

How does this keep you dry and comfortable? Like a gatekeeper, waterproof breathable membranes block water molecules (rain) from passing through yet allow water vapor (sweat) to escape.

This keeps you dry from the outside elements and comfortable by allowing your own body heat to transport vapor away from your skin through the membrane to be evaporated into the air.

BLOOD-BORNE PATHOGEN RESISTANT

In addition to preventing water from passing through, our membranes also prevent blood borne pathogens from passing through.

LOAD READY HAUL PACK

Constructed from durable 1050D Nylon and featuring a 1000D polyester base with waterproof TPU coating, the Load Ready Haul Pack is an ultra heavy duty convertible haul-all. Load what you need then carry it in either backpack or tote / duffel configuration as is most expeditious for your circumstances. The Haul Pack sorts, separates, and segregates with the use of side slip pockets (with upper compression strap), front and rear pockets with hook and loop closures, and an internal zippered mesh pocket.

The external lash loops with double layered webbing will get you sorted for accessory attachment too. For open access, roll up and store the top lid with toggle / loop, or roll it back down and secure it to protect your cargo from the elements or prying eyes. The pack is protected on the bottom by a dual layer, internal and external, waterproof panel, and you don't need to worry about your cargo splitting out the seams either. The Load Ready Haul Pack is sewn with extra heavy duty thread and reinforced with extra bartacks.

ALL HAZARDS PRIME BACKPACK

The polite way to describe the All Hazards Prime is that it's extremely durable. But let's get real: It's just plain meaner than your average bag. Designed with input from MACTAC instructors, the Prime's main compartment holds two Ammo Mules or other gear, while the front panel unzips 180° for full access to a MOLLE- and SlickStick®-compatible medical compartment. There's also an internal laptop sleeve, a dedicated hydration or armor compartment, and an all-purpose shove-it pocket for quick storage of a helmet or extra cargo. And because details matter, we added a fleece-lined sunglasses pocket, side-mounted retention lanyards, and a quick grip top handle. Each compartment is lined with high-visibility orange to assist in low-light conditions. With the All Hazards Prime on your back, you and everyone else can breathe easier.

TAC OPERATOR ALS BACKPACK

The Tac Operator ALS is the Operator ALS Pack's tactical cousin with all 1050D nylon material and no reflectivity. With the included Double Duty Gear Set™, four (4) color-coded Easy-Vis Med Pouches, and additional real estate configured for both internal and external Gear Set™ mounting, the Tac Operator has plenty of room for both necessities and niceties... though hopefully you have a priority on the former. A pair of long zippered internal pockets and a two-way to pocket will help keep your equipment organised strategically. So too will the dedicated laptop / hydration (or litter) compartment, and you'll note the exterior of the pack features laser-cut MOLLE side panels, compression straps, and additional pockets on the waist. How you configure your pack is up to you, and dependent on mission and need. Your ability to configure effectively is up to the pack. The Tac Operator ALS more than meets that responsibility. The Tac Operator is superbly suited to handle mission-specific loads, particularly when tailored to your specific needs with our Gear Sets. Compartmentalisation is crucial. Nobody wants their lifesaving equipment and supplies floating around all in one chaotic load. Nor should their be any confusion between a trauma kit and a boo-boo kit. Let the Tac Operator ALS shoulder the heavy lifting when it comes to organising and hauling your gear. That'll leave you free to focus and succeed on your mission. The Tac Operator ALS Backpack features a quick pull handle, aluminum top carry handle, and quick release shoulder straps with comfort yoke.

EMERGENCY READY BAG

The Emergency Ready Bag's name explains it all. Bail out with it and buy some time for the ambulance to arrive, or if you're the medic, organise all your trauma kit and have it ready to hand. You can haul it as a messenger bag with removable shoulder and waist straps or carrying it with top and grab handles, it just depends on how far you need to go and what you're responding to. The Emergency Ready Bag folds open in a partial clamshell to allow full access from the top without letting everything spill out. Once it folds open you'll find the internal partitions stacked one beside the other, with further subdivisions inside them. Dividers, pockets, a stretch woven center zipper pocket and elastic retention bands make it easier to find and access whatever particulars you need to handle your problem. Additional heavy duty slip pockets at the rear and stretch front pockets with internal elastic bands for tourniquets provide additional organisational measures. A 15cm x 2cm (6" x 1") loop-side tape holder is included for name or callsign tape, squad designator, or other hook-back patch.
